

STATELY RIDES

Windrush Valley

ARRIVAL

You will arrive at Banks Fee the home of Annie and Christopher Cox in time for tea. Banks Fee is a lovely Cotswold house on the outskirts of Stow-on-the-Wold.

Dinner will be three-courses served in the dining room.

DAY 1

After a delicious breakfast, you will ride north. The morning's ride will take you over rolling countryside and woodland passing through classic Cotswold villages like Condicote and Temple Guiting.

For lunch weather permitting, you will stop and have a picnic overlooking romantic Guiting Manor.

The afternoon's ride will take you on through the villages of Hawling, Salperton and Naughton. The villages are wonderful examples of Cotswold vernacular architecture.

Around five you will arrive at the home of Celia Mills. You will spend the night here and have dinner with Celia and her family.

DAY 2

The morning's ride takes you along the winding Windrush Valley and through woods and ancient pasture.

Lunch will be at a cosy local pub.

After lunch, you will ride on along an old Roman Road before you finally arrive back at Banks Fee in time for tea.
